

To Whom It May Concern:

It is with pleasure that I write this letter of recommendation for Julian Vogel. Julian has been with us at Bonn International School since early learning and I have had the privilege of working with him these last two years in the capacity of Diploma coordinator and as his Economics teacher.

At school and in class, Julian has always been respectful and personable and has always worked hard to achieve his goals. He is self-driven and a model student. His organization and dedication helped him find success in the rigorous International Baccalaureate Diploma Programme.

What stands out the most about Julian is not necessarily what he did in the classroom but what he did outside of it. From a young age, Julian took a keen interest in business and entrepreneurship. He used these passions to find connections in the Economics classroom as well as in his Business Management course.

He also gave back to the school community by leading our school's entrepreneurship club, teaching future generations about starting a business and bringing in guest speakers to inspire problem solving and initiative.

Julian is also a talented musician and has channelled his creative passions into endeavours such as writing music, recording music video to organizing music events.

Overall, Julian has made great strides to achieving his goals and I cannot wait to see what he will do next. He comes highly recommended and will be an asset to your school.
